MEDIA ADVISORY

State air pollution control officers release new report

WHO: Brad Poiriez, board president
California Air Pollution Control Officers Association (CAPCOA)

WHAT: California's Progress Toward Clean Air, the third annual collaborative state of the air report available for download at www.capcoa.org

WHEN: To be released April 17, 2013 at 8 a.m.

WHERE: Media invited to conference call at 10:30 a.m.
Conference call # 1-888-955-5369
Participant code: 585685

WHY: Provides new and current information about regional and joint efforts among the state's air quality management districts for attainment of federal standards. The report contains statistical information on ozone and PM2.5 air quality for 2000 and 2012 for each county; statewide air quality trends and detailed descriptions of air pollution control programs at each air quality district.

For more information about CAPCOA and the state's air districts, call 916-769-7769.

The Bay Area Air Quality Management District (www.baaqmd.gov) is the regional agency responsible for protecting air quality in the nine-county Bay Area.
