

May 25, 2004

Jack Broadbent
Brenda Cabral
Ay Area Air Quality Management District
939 Ellis Street
San Francisco, CA 94109

Re: Comments on the PG&E Hunters Point Power Plant Title V Permit (Air District Facility #A0024)

To Whom It May Concern:

We are the India Basin Neighborhood Assn., an organization of neighbors and businesses that live and operate around the PG&E Hunters Point power plant. We oppose the renewal of the plant's Title V permit with the Air District.

As neighbors, we experience first hand the ups and downs of the plant. Sometimes, it's working, sometimes, it isn't. Sometimes, it sends out a loud explosive boom and then a plume of screaming steam. Sometimes, we here a siren going off at the facility. Sometimes, it just sits there making a loud hum drowning out the conversation of your friend as you're standing in your yard or hiking around it. Having the plant there is an incompatible use of that piece of land as compared with the current neighborhood that surrounds it.

At the hearing, you heard plenty of testimony from many neighbors on how this plant negatively impacts our lives. Some of the impacts we feel are those you can't really see or measure; nothing that would show up on an air monitor or gauges of any kind. Health impacts? Yes. Can we directly link them to the plant as the source? No. Does this mean the plant should remain in operation? Absolutely not.

This plant starts and stops many, many times a month and we now understand that this activity is not counted towards permitting by BAAQMD. Just like an automobile, this is when a large amount of pollutants are emitted into our air. This is not fair to the residents here. When a plant with as many mechanical difficulties as this one starts and stops as much as it does, that should be formulated into its operating permit and also taken into consideration at renewal time.

We want the City and PG&E, who agreed back in 1998 the plant should close when it was no longer needed, to keep the promises they have made. We witness this plant in an idle state so much of the time and it is documented by the ISO as having been offline the majority of 2003, and now quite a bit in 2004. It is obvious to us that it certainly isn't needed any longer. And we don't want it. Let the charade end. We suggest that you honor the original agreement by denying this five year permit.

Sincerely,
Cab Covay
Chair, India Basin Neighborhood Assn.
911 Innes Avenue
San Francisco, CA 94124
415-285-9211
Cc Independent System Operator
Honorable, Supervisor Sophie Maxwell